

Unhealthy Identity

The Hats: This person wears the hats (identities) of a teacher, addict, artist, and parent. What governs these hats are negative things such as the world's influence and the lies of the enemy. If these hats get removed (for whatever reason), this person will still have instability, disorder, and lack of purpose in their lives because what ruled them was not of the Lord.

The Bold Underline Print: This person's overall belief about themselves is also rooted and boxed in by the deceits of the world and other various negative influences. They will truly not live in freedom and peace until they are rooted in Christ.

Healthy Identity

The Hats: This person wears the same hats (identities) from above. However, what rules these roles are Godly things. If a hat gets taken away, the person will continue to be stable because what governed them was the Lord.

The Bold Underline Print: This person's overall belief system is in Christ. They may have days they are attacked and feel "stuck" but they can renew their mind to truth quickly because they are wrapped and circled in the love of Christ. They are operating in God's truths by staying in the depths of the Secret Place. The Secret Place at its core, it is a life that remains in the hiddenness of Jesus. One way to stay hidden in the Lord, is to remain in all that He says you are, your identities in Him!
